Notes on Deep Learning

Qi Wang

December 21, 2021

Basic terminologies

generalization: The ability to perform well on previously unseen data is called generalization. That is, test error reflects generalization ability.

underfitting: When the model is not able to obtain a sufficient low training error;

overfitting: When the difference between test error and training error is too large;